

Marie Barraco

Série Series Festival

Director of Série Series Festival

Marie started her career in audiovisual production before turning to cultural events management.

She then founded Kandimari, the consulting, communications and event management agency specialised in the sector. She created and managed the Scénaristes en Séries festival in Aix-les-Bains (2005-2010). In 2012, she founded Série Series, the European TV series festival in Fontainebleau, as well as Série Series Africa and Série Series Kids in 2018.

All her initiatives are led in conjunction with professionals of the sector, who are fully included in all thinking processes